

Why Euramerican?

It's convenient, gets the point across and uniquely defines us. It's noble and meaningful. It embraces two ideas into one: of European heritage and living in America.

We need a name for ourselves, we need a name for a new, successful movement. We need to distinguish ourselves. We need to own the meaning. We need to embrace all aspects of our history into one term defining who we are now. We need a term that our enemies will reject but that will immediately help us recognize our noble cause. We need a term with hardly any historical baggage.

European is good. Yes, our common heritage is in Europe; we are Europeans. Our heritage is important to us. But we're more than that.

American is a good term, but not specific enough. Our enemies are calling themselves American. They give it away to any foreign fleabag who drops on our shores begging for handouts and who will vote for them. It is becoming meaningless. Maybe some day we can reclaim that term.

White is good too. But it's also not specific enough. We are White. But our enemies are White. The anti-Whites call Arabs White too. Our movement is not merely racial, but is also cultural, ethnic and nationalistic.

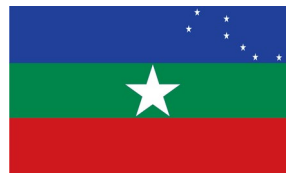

We're all those things: White, European, American, dedicated to a better future for our people. We need a term to embrace that, so: Euramerican. Keep calling yourself White; keep calling yourself American, keep calling yourself European. But for a term that embraces all of those into one, call yourself Euramerican.

ORGANIZE OR DIE!

OUR DILEMMA

Our nation is under attack. Our culture is under attack. Our institutions are under control of hostile forces. We are quickly losing control of our homeland, and control of our destiny. Our children are under attack and are being prepared to be targets in an anti-White world. We are disorganized, underfunded, and under-educated. All of the people that we depended on to protect our community, our nation, our rights, are helping the destruction and things are not getting better.

NO ONE IS COMING TO SAVE US

The people we hoped would protect our fundamental rights, sustain our historical community, cherish and promote our culture aren't there. Our so-called guardians compromised our future away. They've coward under name-calling. They haven't organized anything that can create an opposition to our adversaries.

THE DUTY IS OURS

It's time we realize that unless we do something, our way of life, the beauty of our race, culture, identity, our national freedom and a future for our children will be gone. No one is going to safeguard that for us. We must assume responsibility and build the better future we need. We must assume the responsibility to safeguard our nation, our culture and to fight for our freedom, rights and self-determination.

MILITANCY FOR OUR MOVEMENT? YES.

There is an authority when a people reject the designs of those who hate them, come together as one, accept being alone in the world, but having each other, choose their own leaders, build their own community, embrace their heritage and culture, and work together to make a pleasant and wholesome community focused on a better future.

We must resist the control and plan our opposition has for us. The first step to resistance is to reject the authority of our opposition. They don't represent us. They don't have our interests in mind. They don't represent our good; they're working against it. They're willing to compromise everything for good standing among our adversaries.

But let's not go off half-cocked into a losing battle. It's noble to fight and die for your peoples' cause, but it is better to live and win. The best revenge we can get against our enemies is to be successful at sustaining and growing our national community, and weakening and eventually eliminating their hold over us.

BUT DEVOTION TO BUILDING COMMUNITY TOGETHER!

We must secure the existence of our people and a future for Euramerican children. But it's not all about fighting and dying. It's about building and succeeding. It's about organizing ourselves to resist and survive in the long term.

It's not enough to say you will die for your people. A bigger question is whether you will live for them. Will you do the long-term work that is needed. Will you build schools for the children, build community centers where we can celebrate together, build businesses focused on our people's needs, help those of our people who are needy, study the landscape and carefully select and exploit our oppositions' weaknesses.

We must rebuild our national community, for our future generations, by separating ourselves from our enemies' propaganda centers. This weakens our enemies' hold on our people.

ENA IS THE RESISTANCE

The Euramerican National Assembly is organizing a community of resistance. We are rejecting the authority and morality of our peoples' enemies. We are training and selecting our leaders. We are leading our people to a better future. But we need your help.

JOIN THE RESISTANCE!

Accept the responsibility. Embrace the Duty. Join us in our fight. There's a lot of work to do. We will give you a job and put you to work doing the vital tasks that needs to be done. It will be rewarding and satisfying; it will change the world for good.
